

BREAKING IN THE 21ST CENTURY

Kids in the Bronx spinning on cardboard is ancient history. Today elite breakers from Kazakhstan to Korea compete in sold-out stadiums across the globe for international fame and supremacy. Big brands in fashion, sports, and entertainment are sponsoring tournaments and dancers.

And with breaking about to debut at the next Olympics, the sport/art-form is ready to break out into the mainstream.

